Presentation-Related Group Communications

Are you a Teacher? A Corporate Trainer? A Presenter? If your job entails communicating a message to an audience, The Chariot Group, Inc. can help.

The Chariot Group, Inc.'s area of expertise is presentation-related communication. Whether your audience is large or small, near or far, The Chariot Group, Inc. can provide the consulting services and presentation products necessary to enhance your ability to effectively communicate your message.

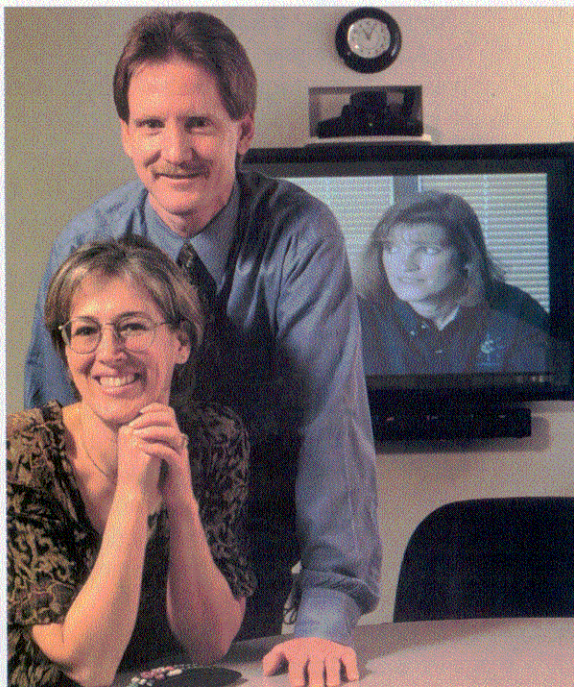

Founded by Rick Thomas and his wife, Denise, The Chariot Group, Inc. is an Alaskan-owned and -operated company that specializes in Multimedia and Video Conference Solutions. President Rick Thomas has been in the Audio-Visual Presentation Industry since 1995 and serving Alaska since 1996. He has been personally involved with implementing network-based videoconference solutions in a variety of locations throughout Alaska for the Corporate, Health, Educational and Governmental markets.

Multimedia Solutions

Are you a traveling presenter whose needs require lightweight and portability? Or, do you require a presenting environment with a fixed installation solution? The Chariot Group, Inc. can assist you in making an informed decision. From room design to installation services, they can incorporate the latest communication technology available to meet your needs.

Do your training or briefing sessions involve several people huddled around a computer? Then, perhaps it's time you gave some consideration to alternative display options.

Today's standard presenting tool is the multimedia projector, a device that plugs into your computer and projects the computer image onto a screen. These projectors are available in a variety of models from the 3 lb. travel size to the fixed-installation auditorium size—all designed to fit the presenter's needs. Likewise, The Chariot Group, Inc. also offers a wide range of "presentation tools" such as document cameras, projection screens and electronic whiteboards.

Are you looking for The Boardroom of the Future? Then look no further. The Chariot Group, Inc. can help you "WOW" your audience with a ceiling or wall-mounted plasma screen, an interactive overlay incorporating touch technology, and connectivity options built right into the conference table!

Video Conference Solutions

Is your travel budget getting out of hand? The Chariot Group, Inc. can help minimize the ever-growing overhead of travel to recurring meetings and conferences. Videoconferencing is quickly becoming the technology solution to worldwide business communications.

Imagine, from the comfort of your own office, you can now meet face-to-face, real time with a person or group located in another city, state or country. The cost of a videoconference solution can be quickly recovered in a short period of time once you consider the actual and inherent costs of travel, such as airfare, hotel, meals and employee stress and down time. In short, videoconferencing adds up to decreased costs and increased efficiency.

What if your company doesn't conduct enough travel to justify implementing an in-house videoconferencing solution? Then, why not rent one? The Chariot Group, Inc. has available for rent a videoconference room suite. Available by the hour, the rental suite, designed in a conference-room style, is equipped to handle as many as six people.

Rental Services

In addition to the Video Conference Suite rental, The Chariot Group, Inc. also offers daily, weekly or monthly rentals of multimedia projectors and plasma screens.

Customer service and making technology easy are two of the hallmarks that have made The Chariot Group, Inc. the fastest-growing company of its kind in Alaska. "Let us worry about the technology. It's our job to make the customer look good," Thomas asserts. "We work directly with all of the major manufactures, which is important because the customer can talk to us here—we are local. There is no 800 number maze to navigate when you need additional service."

No matter the size of your budget, The Chariot Group, Inc. can make it simple, affordable and elegantly effective.
